

Go where your spirit takes you

WWW.CAMPINGRVBC.COM

Prince Rupert, Photo: Picture BC/Lonnie Wehant

Tourism BC/David Gluns

CAMPING & RV IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Dramatic, diverse, spectacular

Go where your spirit takes you

Be earth friendly. Please recycle this brochure or pass along to a friend.

WWW.CAMPINGRVBC.COM

Jones Lake, Hope Photo: Jason VanEwyk

The hardest part is choosing.

Russet Lake, Whistler, Photo: Mike Crane

Seven Summits Trail, Rossland, Photo: Picture BC/Larry Doell

BRITISH COLUMBIA boasts some of the world's most magnificent and diverse scenery: sky-piercing mountains, semi-arid grasslands, lush old-growth forests, awe-inspiring coastlines, sparkling beaches, crystal-clear lakes and rivers.

There is no better way to experience the breathtaking natural splendour of British Columbia than on a camping and RV adventure. The province is home to seven national parks, 340 provincial campgrounds, more than 1,200 recreation sites, and over 500 high quality private RV parks and campgrounds. The range of natural settings is incredible and the choice of activities and attractions is vast. Whether you want to rough it deep in the wilderness or enjoy all the comforts of home in a fully equipped RV, choosing your destination is the first step in the outdoor experience of a lifetime.

Need help choosing? Our website is your one-stop shop for campgrounds and RV parks in B.C.!

WWW.CAMPINGRVBC.COM

We've got hundreds of affordable places to call home for the night...

PRIVATE RV PARKS/CAMPGROUNDS > British Columbia has 500-plus private RV parks and campgrounds, as well as ownership and membership RV parks, offering a range of services and amenities. These properties cater to campers who cherish comfort and convenience as much as a natural outdoor experience. Additional features range from WiFi and family programs to biking, boating, fishing, and many other activities.

BC PARKS > B.C.'s Provincial Parks are the pride of the province and preserve the incredible natural beauty for which British Columbia is famous worldwide. There are more than 340 campgrounds, 11,000 campsites, 250 day-use areas, and 6,000 kilometres of trails giving campers unprecedented opportunities to enjoy a diverse range of magnificent outdoor settings.

PARKS CANADA > British Columbia features seven of Canada's national parks. These geographic treasures protect some of the most unique natural areas in the country. Most national park campgrounds provide a rustic, semi-wilderness experience with a variety of amenities, activities, and interpretive programs. Discover your moment in Canada's national parks.

RECREATION SITES > Recreation sites provide opportunities for both campers and back road explorers, in both accessible front or back country destinations. The less visited remote sites offer the back country enthusiast an opportunity to escape to spectacular destinations, free of the summer crowds. In all there are some 1,300 recreation sites available in some of British Columbia's most spectacular pristine wilderness. These sites offer rustic amenities including fire rings, picnic tables and pit toilets.

RV RENTAL

Arranging for an RV rental in B.C. is easy, especially with the assistance of the RV Rental Association of Canada. RVRAC's six major members operate 2,300 vehicles from Metro Vancouver, Calgary, and Whitehorse.

THE PERFECT MATCH

Which activities go best with camping and RVing in B.C.? All of them! From cycling, hiking, kayaking, and fishing to golfing, exploring historical and cultural attractions, shopping, and dining – camping and RVing can be matched to any activity you like. Find out more at www.campingrvbc.com or call us at 604-469-9571.

GOOGLE IT!

Finding, booking, and driving to a great camping spot just got a whole lot easier using Google Maps. This user-friendly tool features place marks and driving directions (available in five languages!) for more than 1,100 campgrounds and major RV rental locations in B.C. Find it at www.campingrvbc.com.

